

Dear Praying Moms,

You have been praying for this generation, and we believe God has heard those prayers and is about to do something incredible on America's campuses.

There is a growing desperation on our college campuses, and students by the thousands have begun to respond to God's invitation to pray like never before for something that's never happened before.

My wife, Peg, and I have raised three sons in the public school system. Peg was in a Moms In Touch prayer group in Madison, Wisconsin, when our children were young. And I have been involved for many years in calling people to pray, teaching on prayer, and doing what I can to encourage the church to pray.

Now my wife and I have moved to Kansas City to come alongside the young leaders of Campus America, an initiative of 24-7 Prayer USA.

Campus America has a vision to see an unbroken thread of 24/7 prayer happening on all 4-year campuses in this country in 2010. It's an impossible dream unless God is in it. And we sense He is!

The seeds of a revival are already sprouting up among college students on campuses across the country. I believe that God is about to set our campuses and a generation on fire--a fire that I believe will spread throughout the states, the nation and the nations.

It's an honor for us to have an opportunity to invite you to join us in praying for campuses throughout the nation over the next year. Many of you live near a university campus, and this would be a practical and natural way to focus your prayers.

Please take a few minutes to visit the Campus America website at www.campusamerica.org. If you watch the six-minute video on our home page, I'm sure you'll understand the significance of this coming year.

Then we invite you to go to our "Adopt-A-Campus" link and sign up to adopt a campus in prayer. It could be the campus your son or daughter attends. It could be your alma mater. It could be a campus across town or across the country. You choose. We will then send you an e-newsletter twice a month to keep you up to date on how God is moving on our nation's campuses.

It's that simple.

But you will have an eternal impact.

For Him Who is Worthy,

Dave Konkol
Campus America Team Leader
